

Brand Workshop

Offerings

You know what you do and why it matters. The hard part is finding the language and visuals that make everyone else see it too.

Our strategy sessions are built to close that gap, giving you the clarity, tools, and creative direction to show up consistently and confidently. Every session is tailored to where you are and where you're headed. Some clients walk away ready to run with it on their own. Others use their session as the launchpad for a longer creative partnership. Either way, you leave with actionable insights to propel your brand forward.

HOW DO THESE SESSIONS WORK?

Workshops are structured, one to three hour working sessions held with your leadership or creative team. Each one moves through a set sequence of guided exercises, built to take a group from open discussion to specific, usable direction inside a single meeting. Within two weeks of the session, you receive a written strategy document that translates what was discussed into a resource your team can reference and apply going forward.

Brand Visual Workshop

In this workshop, we use a series of guided exercises to extract the DNA of your organization (the personality, values, and energy that make your brand distinct) and translate that DNA into a visual direction that feels authentic, resonant, and connects with your desired audience.

WHO IT'S FOR

Founders who need to move beyond generic messaging, clarify their value, and articulate a vision that sticks.

This workshop uses a series of guided exercises to extract the DNA of your organization: the personality, values, and energy that make your brand distinct. That DNA can then be translated into a visual direction that feels authentic, resonant, and connected to your desired audience.

THE PROCESS

- 1. Brand DNA Discovery.
Guided exercises surface the personality, values, and energy already driving how your organization makes decisions, even where no one has put language to it yet.
- 2. Visual Translation.
That language becomes visual direction: color, type, imagery, and tone, tested against what was surfaced in discovery.
- 3. Direction & Documentation.
Findings are captured in a strategic overview and a set of moodboards your team can carry into design work, whether with Nectarine or on your own.

WHAT YOU WALK AWAY WITH

Following the session, you receive a Brand Outcomes Document that serves as your strategic playbook.

Depending on your needs, it may include:

- A multi-page strategic overview of the session, outlining your brand's personality and identity
- A competitive landscape map, outlining where your visually brand aligns with its target market and competitors and how to stand out.
- A visual voice spectrum: concrete examples of imagery, typography, and styling that are supported by and will elevate your brands vision.
- Two to three moodboards of fresh visual direction, rooted in the insights uncovered during the session

Brand Narrative Workshop

The Brand Narrative Workshop is a 1-3 hour collaborative, strategic session designed for founders who need to move beyond generic messaging, clarify their value, and articulate a vision that sticks. We explore your brand's core story, map your customer's journey, and construct a narrative that bridges the gap between what you offer and what your market craves.

WHO IT'S FOR

Founders who need to move beyond generic messaging, clarify their value, and articulate a vision that sticks.

This collaborative session explores your brand's core story, maps your customer's journey, and constructs a narrative that bridges the gap between what you offer and what your market craves.

To disrupt the subpar NCLEX prep industry by providing veteran nurse-led, zero-fluff strategies, ensuring every nursing graduate launches their purposeful career with confidence, and uncompromising balance.

Be concise and active. Clearly define the action (how), the hero (who do you serve), and the unique result (your end goal/mission).
Bad Apple does to disrupt the industry.
o you help (Nursing graduates).
ame the outcome using the Sage's wisdom and the Outlaw's spirit (e.g., "crush the NCLEX," "zero-fluff," "launch balanced careers").
should be a quick, confident declaration of your unique purpose.

THE PROCESS

- 1. Customer Discovery: Define who your customer actually is: their daily reality, what they want out of life, and the obstacles standing between them and it.
- 2. Value Mapping: Translate that understanding into the specific gains you create and the pain you relieve for your customers, then shape it into a working value proposition.
- 3. Brand Positioning: Identify the archetype your customer looks to you to embody, and use it to define the drive, fear, and strategy behind your brand's posture.
- 4. Narrative Construction: Build the language for your founding story, your vision and mission statements, and the working vocabulary that keeps your voice consistent across every channel.

THE BRAND NARRATIVE WORKSHOP

WHAT YOU WALK AWAY WITH

Following the session, you receive a Brand Outcomes Document that serves as your strategic playbook.

Depending on your needs, it may include:

- Customer Personas & Value Propositions: profiles of your key customer segments, each paired with a value proposition statement connecting their needs to your offering
- Brand Archetype & Tone Guide: your brand's core archetype, defined by its drive, fear, and strategy, translated into practical guidance for tone of voice
- The Brand Story: your founding story developed at multiple lengths, from a short version to a full narrative, ready for your website, pitch decks, and proposals
- Strategic Messaging Framework: a working vocabulary of words and phrases aligned to your brand voice, so copy stays consistent across your team and vendors
- Vision & Mission Statements: statements defining where your brand is headed and how it gets there, specific enough to guide decisions rather than sit on a wall

Who is Dr. Honey? What is her daily life like?

- Dean or administrator of a nursing program with high-level responsibilities
- Works extremely long days (8am to 5pm) filled with back-to-back meetings
- Manages the school's budget and financial operations
- Oversees curriculum sourcing and admissions processes
- Responsible for the credit and standing of the entire school (reports to University President/Chancellor, ANA, NCSSN)
- Ultimately responsible for students and faculty safety, education, well-being, retention
- Must be innovative in managing programs while maintaining the school's reputation

What does Dr. Honey want out of life? What are her goals?

- Professional Goals:
 - Achieve high faculty and student retention rates (100% matriculation)
 - Maintain excellent NCLEX pass rates
 - Build and sustain high reputation locally and nationally including developing a robust workforce pipeline for the nursing profession
 - Secure adequate income and funding to sustain school operations
 - Create an inclusive community with strong culture that attracts and keeps students engaged long-term (NCLEX through Masters program)
- Core Values:
 - Excellence: Committed to quality standards and high reputation
 - Responsibility: Deeply accountable for student and faculty well-being
 - Sustainability: Balancing quality with financial realities
 - Community: Building an attractive, inclusive environment

What are Dr. Honey's obstacles?

- Financial Pressures:
 - National government funding cuts shifting costs to students
 - Changing financing options making education less accessible
 - Need to reduce costs while maintaining quality
 - Pressure to hire fewer teachers or lower quality faculty
- Quality & Retention Challenges:
 - Inadequate faculty preparation for supporting students
 - Maintaining quality standards amid budget cuts
 - Faculty burnout and succession planning issues
- Program Delivery Issues:
 - Forced transition to boring prep methods (asynchronous, module-based)
 - Difficulty keeping programs engaging and effective

BRAND STORY

Bill is the Hero archetype:

Hero
Drive	Fear	Strategy
Mastery	Incompetence	Become Stronger & Better
Courage	Cowardice	Prove People Wrong
Growth	Deterioration
Development	Downfall
Defense	Incapability

Jason and Lauren are the Sage archetype:

Sage
Drive	Fear	Strategy

Jessica is the Outlaw archetype:

To eliminate burnout and systemic obstacles in nursing, ensuring every nurse we launch is an empowered leader who delivers the highest standard of patient care.

Writing Your Vision Statement:

Your Vision Statement should be bold, challenging, and future-focused, capturing the essence of your Outlaw/Sage archetype. Don't be afraid to directly name the problem you are solving (ex: burnout, broken systems). It must clearly define the aspirational end state (ex: your aspirational goal isn't just to help people pass an exam, but launching a new, better kind of nurse.)

VISION STATEMENT

What Happens After Your Session?

Some clients take their strategy document and use the outcomes as a starting point for their internal team. Others choose to continue working with Nectarine to flesh out their full brand identity, from a simple brand style sheet with colors and fonts to an extended brand guide that may cover language, key art, and specialty design assets.
